Open Hearing for Deputy Fire Chief Likely to Be Ordered.

DARR WRITES LETTER

sioners Consider Communica tion in Executive Session-Now Considering Nature of Probe.

A thorough public probe into the Five and Ten Cent Store fire on December 24, n which five firemen were trapped for more than an hour and a half, and which resulted in Deputy Fire Chief Andrew J. Suilivan being informally requested to resign, now seems probable. On the receipt of a letter from Charles W. Darr, attorney for Sullivan, the Com-missioners yesterday morning held a brief executive session, at the close of which Commissioner Newman stated that Mr. Darr's request for a public investigation of charges made against Sullivan by witnesses in Commissioner Siddons' re-cent "star chamber" probe, is likely to be granted. It is believed that the Comhe granted. It is believed that the Com-missioners are now considering the nature of the proposed investigation—that is, whether it should be a hearing by trial board or otherwise.

Mr. Darr's letter asserts that if the Commissioners do not see the case in the light in which Sullivan and his friends ee it, the deputy fire chief is ready to "bow" to the orders of his superiors. Mr. Darr makes it clear, however, that Sulli-van's friends would consider a summary discharge of the deputy fire chief as a esult of thus far unproven statements s "unreasonable and cruel."

New Angle from Testimony.

Since the exclusive publication in The Washington Herald last Sunday of ex-tracts from the testimeny given before ioner Siddons in his secret probe the Sullivan case has been given a dif-ferent angle. These extracts tended to now that according to the witnesses the responsibility for the dangerous position of the five firemen trapped in the blaze rested not solely upon Sullivan's should-ers, but that from the moment Chief Engineer Wagner arrived on the scene of the fire, Sullivan was ordered by Chief Wagner to fight flames in considerable distance from the place where the men were buried; that Sullivan left Chief Wagner in charge of the front part of the fire, and that, according to the rules, every chief, "from the chief engineer to the batallion chiefs," is responsible for the location and position of all com-

Darr's letter intimates repeatedly that the investigation "might possibly result in the discharge of other members
